

A Name Twice Made Famous, Now a Shining Mark for Imitators.

The name "Chase," twice made famous, is a shining mark for the unscrupulous to pounce upon and appropriate in order to foist upon the public their worthless preparations. These birds of prey, by using the name Chase, expect the public to be fooled into believing they are the medicines of Dr. A. W. Chase, who first became noted as the author of the world famous Dr. Chase's Kidney Pills and family physician, and whose name is now doubly increased by the wonderful success of his Nerve Pills, with Nerve, Brain and Blood troubles. They play upon the name Chase, but dare not use the initials "A. W."

They imitate, but dare not counterfeit the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, which identifies the Nerve Pills now recognized as infallible for building up pale, weak, thin-blooded, nerve exhausted sufferers.

Who are nerve-tired and brain-weary. Who are easily exhausted. Who are wakeful—cannot sleep. Who have nervous headache. They remove the cause of blood impurities, securing refreshing sleep and impart strength.

They build up people who find their strength and vigor waning. They settle irritated nerves, replace languor and lassitude with energy and animation. Cure Nervous Dyspepsia.

CAUTION.—The protection to the public in securing the genuine and original Dr. A. W. Chase preparation is in seeing the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., on each box. These and these only are the genuine. Do not be satisfied with anything bearing the name "Chase" without the initials A. W. 50 cents of Druggists or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

FRANCE AROUSED

Anti-Clerical Demonstrations Are Growing in Proportions.

A STORMY DAY IN PARIS

Demonstration in Connection With Closing the Church Schools Results in Riot.

Police Were Given a Busy Sunday But No Serious Trouble Resulted.

Paris, July 28.—The demonstration made Sunday in connection with the decree of Premier Combes ordering the closing of the congregationalist schools proved to be quite as much of a manifestation in support of the government as of opposition to its anti-clerical measures. The crowd which gathered in the Place de la Concorde numbered 15,000 persons, while as many more thronged the Champs Elysees. The clerical and anti-clerical forces about equally divide the gathering. The former were distinguishable by the red, white and blue paper flowers which they wore, while the latter sported red eglantines.

Though many fights occurred, they never became general, nor was any person seriously injured. An imposing force of police and mounted municipal guards had much trouble in keeping the manifestants constantly moving, and at times they were forced to charge to prevent the crowd becoming too dense. On the whole the crowds were good-natured and mainly confined themselves to shouting "Liberty, Liberty!" "Long live the Sisters!" and "We want the Sisters." To which the anti-clericals replied: "Vive le Republic!" and "Down with the Priests." The occasional appearance of a priest was a signal for much hooting, and several fights were due to their presence.

A striking feature of the manifestations was the large number of women, many of them well dressed, who actively participated. Nor were these all clerical in their sympathies, for the anti-clerical women were also out in strong force and they occasionally made things lively for their clerical sisters, whom the police had some difficulty in protecting. In one instance a detachment of mounted guards had to rescue three well-dressed ladies from the hands of a group of socialist women who were bent on mobbing them.

The clericals made several attempts to reach the Place Beauvau on which the Elysees and the ministry of the Interior are situated, but were prevented from doing so by strong cordons of police and municipal guards which were stationed at all the approaches in order to prevent demonstrations in front of these buildings.

The demonstrations culminated as a group of ladies, some in carriages and some on foot, attempted to reach the ministry of the Interior in order to present to Premier Combes a petition on behalf of the sisters. The police, however, refused to allow them to pass.

Subsequently the clericals made an angry rush on the cordon guarding the Avenue Gabrielle and the soldiers had to use the butts of their guns to keep back the crowd.

Another violent incident occurred on the Champs Elysees, where the crowd began throwing the small iron chairs bordering the sidewalks, among the feet of the horses of the mounted guards. One horse fell, injuring his rider. A number of prominent nationalists, including Deputies Millevoye, Auffray, and several municipal councilors, were conspicuous in the crowd and were much ovated by their followers and hooted by the anti-clericals. By 7 o'clock last evening the crowd began to thin out and an hour later the Place de la Concorde and the Champs Elysees had resumed their customary appearance. A light shower or hastened the dispersal of the manifestants. About 100 arrests were made.

The fact that throughout the day vehicular traffic was not interrupted shows how well the police handled the great unruly crowd with which they had to deal.

A VOTE GETTER

Bryan Would Be That for the Republicans, They Say.

Indianapolis, July 28.—If Bryan will only come to Indiana this fall I would willingly help pay his expenses, in addition to my regular assessment to the state committee for campaign purposes. "Bob" Brown, clerk of the supreme court, who is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket, made the foregoing proposition and added: "If the Democrats will just bring Bryan and Senator Carmack to Indiana this fall there will be no need for the Republicans to make a fight. It will simply be a clutch for them. Why, Bryan could do us more good than Senator Hanna." Brown but voices the sentiment of other Republican leaders who are "aching" for Bryan to come back to Indiana. They are confident that his speeches would make votes for them, but the Democrats evidently believe the same way, as they have decided that Bryan is not to be invited by the state organization. So if Bryan does come it will be under the auspices of some old-time admirers. The Republicans are hoping that by some good fortune Bryan will come to the state for a few speeches.

It has remained for a local paper to recall that John Cavens and not Thos. Taggart has the record for longest service as mayor of Indianapolis. Taggart, however, equalled Cavens in point of consecutive terms. Both men served three terms in succession. Cavens was first elected in 1863. He was re-elected in 1865 and served until 1867. He was elected again in 1875, serving until 1881, being elected three times. Probably no other man in the country served as long as Cavens as the mayor of a large city. He is now 75 years old, and although he figured prominently for many years in local politics, he is but little known by the politicians who are now in the saddle. The old-timers, however, remember him well. Cavens was mayor in 1877 during the great railroad strike, one of the most critical points in the history of the city. Besides Taggart and Cavens the men of longest service as mayor of Indianapolis are Thomas L. Sullivan, Democrat, and Caleb Denny, Republican, both of whom served three terms, but not in succession. With the exception of Cavens and Taggart, no one has ever been elected mayor of Indianapolis three times in succession, and it has been frequently the case that a mayor of one term has been turned down.

Governor Durbin is going to be a busy man from now until after the adjournment of the next session of the legislature. This does not mean that he is not always a busy individual, as the governor's office is not a soft snap yet there are seasons that are more busy than others. For instance, the dull season has just ended. With the beginning of the session of the tax board the governor has nearly sixty consecutive days of trying, confining work. During the fall he will have the dedication of the Shiloh battlefield monuments and the Nancy Hanks Lincoln monument that will require much time and attention. He is also going to the national encampment of the G. A. R. at Washington as a delegate at large. Then he will have the meeting of the Spanish-American war veterans at which President Roosevelt will be the guest of honor. But these are merely sidelights to the regular heavy routine that is now coming on.

The Indiana board of pharmacy will show no more mercy to druggists who are not complying strictly with the law. At a recent meeting in Fort Wayne it was decided there had been enough leniency, so from now on the board will have its "eagle eye" out for violators. The late Governor Mount advised that the druggists be given time to comply. The board has not taken any aggressive action until this week, when the first arrest for violation of the law was made. A conviction was easily obtained, and the druggist who was unfortunate enough to fall into the clutches of the law not only paid promptly, but promised to get a registered clerk at once.

The state tax board resumed work today after a brief rest. Most of the session was executive, as the board wants to get its appraisal of corporations ready for announcement, as the last two weeks of the session is devoted to hearing appeals from this appraisal. The telephone and telegraph companies will have a hearing tomorrow and next day. This week the hearing of the corporations will be completed. The next two weeks will be given to appeals from the county boards, while the last two weeks are reserved for appeals from the decision of the state board.

Anti-Friar Meeting.

Manila, July 28.—The anti-friar demonstration which the municipal government had been informed was to be held here Sunday, proved to be unimportant. The police forbade the holding of a procession and the reserves were assembled for the purpose of maintaining order. The leaders of the movement conducted a meeting at the Zorilla theater, but no disorder occurred. At the conclusion of the meeting, which was not largely attended owing to the storm which prevailed, the crowd dispersed quietly.

Dead of Pistol Wound.

Madison, Ind., July 28.—Farmer John Metzler is dead from a pistol shot wound received Friday at the hands of Jacob Taulman, a neighboring young farmer, with whom he was quarreling. Taulman is in custody.

CAN THEY DO IT?

Question of Opening the Mines Now Seriously Confronts the Operators.

THE MINERS SAY NAY

Rumor Has Been Revived That One of the Big Collieries Will Attempt It This Week.

Miners Entering the Eleventh Week of the Strike Are As Determined As Ever.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 28.—The beginning of the eleventh week of the anthracite miners' strike finds apparently no change in the situation, although the rumor has been revived that an effort will be made some day this week upon the part of one of the large companies to start up one of their collieries. The companies have a sufficient number of coal and iron policemen enlisted now to prevent trouble should it arise, and all that would be necessary to get a mine in operation would be a sufficient number of miners and laborers to blast the coal and load it on the cars. No doubt plenty of ordinary laborers could be secured, but it is a question whether the requisite number of miners could be persuaded to go into the workings.

At strike headquarters the belief is as strong as ever that the operators cannot resume—that it is idle talk to even suggest such a thing. President Mitchell simply says that the situation is about the same and that the strikers are as firm as ever.

A great deal of telegraphing passed Sunday between Wilkesbarre, Indianapolis and the headquarters of the United Mine Workers in West Virginia, the nature of which Mr. Mitchell would not make public.

Three hundred delegates, representing the 10,000 Polish and Lithuanian residents of the Wyoming valley, met in convention here yesterday and after endorsing the strike appointed a committee of ten to visit New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Buffalo and other large cities and solicit aid from the Polish and Lithuanian people for their countrymen now on strike in the anthracite region. President Mitchell has consented to serve on the board which will arbitrate the differences between the Scranton Electric company and its employees.

Novel Lightning Rod.

Birmingham, Ala., July 28.—Miss Annie Herndon, aged 16, and Willie Blair, a little boy, were struck by lightning Sunday. The latter's death is expected momentarily. Miss Herndon was carrying an umbrella and the lightning struck the tip of the rod, passed down the handle and severely burned her left side and leg. The shoe on her right foot was torn to shreds. She will recover.

Two Children Drowned.

Cleveland, O., July 28.—Anna and Rose Glaw, aged six and sixteen years respectively, were drowned in Lake Erie Sunday afternoon. The girls, with two other children, were out sailing with their father when a squall quickly came and overturned the boat, throwing the entire party into the water. The girls went down before help could be given them. The others were rescued.

Crime of a Bride.

Woodstock, O., July 28.—Mrs. Everett Spence, aged nineteen, Sunday morning killed her husband, aged twenty-one, and then killed herself. She shot her husband while he was asleep and then used the same weapon on herself. They had been married less than two months and were both well connected. It is thought that she was temporarily deranged.

Boys' Strike Settled.

Chicago, July 28.—The strike of the Illinois District Telegraph company's messenger boys, which since Friday last has hampered the telegraph companies in the delivery of their messages and caused great annoyance to brokers and business men throughout the city, was settled at a late hour last night. The boys will receive increased wages.

Costa Rica in Danger.

San Jose, Costa Rica, July 28.—Subterranean roarings resembling thunder are frequently heard in this city and in Alajuela, a town eleven miles distant. They are believed to be caused by the Poas volcano, nineteen miles northwest of here. Quantities of ashes have fallen at San Pedro, a village near the volcano.

"Black Jack" Killed.

El Paso, Tex., July 28.—"Black Jack" McDonald, a noted desperado was shot and killed in his saloon at Juarez, Mex., late Sunday by an American whose name is unknown. The fight resulted from a game of dice in which "Black Jack" and three Americans were engaged. Two of the Americans fled. The other is held.

The King's Condition.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, July 28.—King Edward is much better, but is not yet able to walk or stand. Yesterday for the first time his majesty used his new invalid chair, which enables him to move himself about.

BREAK OF THE WIND

Loisting Machine Blown Off Track Into a Ferry Transport.

Detroit, Mich., July 28.—As the result of a terrific storm about 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the large Brown hoist used to lift and carry heavy plates used in shipbuilding lies on the deck of the Michigan Central car ferry transport at the Wyandotte shipyard, a total wreck, while the upper works of the car ferry are for the most part smashed to kindling wood. The Brown hoist is an immense piece of machinery which runs on a track forty feet high and about 500 feet long. Just before the storm broke the hoist was safely anchored about 400 up the track with two chains. The Michigan Central car ferry transport lay at the dock directly in front of the Brown hoist track. When the storm broke the chains snapped. The immense hoist ran to the end of the track and jumped thirty feet to the car ferry. The damage is estimated at $50,000. Other towns within fifty miles of Detroit report considerable damage to property, but no lives lost.

A Damaging Storm

Oxford, Mich., July 28.—The worst storm ever known in the history of Oxford swept over a strip of country reaching from Thomas to Rochester, a distance of eighteen miles, Sunday afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock and lasting twenty minutes. The corn crop is leveled, while wheat and oats are lying in a tangled mass. Orchards are stripped of their fruit and the losses to farmers will amount to thousands of dollars.

PROMPTED BY JEALOUSY

Missouri an Kills Former Sweetheart and Himself.

Springfield, Ill., July 28.—Charles Weyley, aged twenty-five, of Norwood, Mo., late Saturday night shot and killed Miss Josephine Sheridan, his former sweetheart, at her home here and then shot and killed himself. Miss Sheridan and her sister were entertaining friends in the back yard when Weyley rang the doorbell. Miss Sheridan went through the house to the front door and almost immediately four shots were heard. When members of the family reached the spot a minute later, both the girl and Weyley were dead, stretched side by side on the porch. Miss Sheridan had been shot through the heart, while the top of Weyley's head had been torn off. Jealousy probably prompted Weyley to shoot Miss Sheridan and then himself. They had known each other for four years, and up to a month ago had been engaged to be married.

Contract Jumpers Bounced.

New York, July 28.—Every man in both the National and American leagues of baseball players who has jumped his contract with his manager, was peremptorily expelled from membership in the Players' Protective association, at a meeting held here Sunday.

Shot the Thief.

Louisville, Ky., July 28.—A shooting affray over the theft of a dime, followed by an accident to an ambulance bearing one of the victims to a hospital, last night resulted in the death of one man and the wounding of two others. The dead man is George Seabold, and the wounded are James Clark and William Seabold. Clark, who is a machinist, sent his boy to a store with 10 cents, but the lad was held up and robbed by one of the Seabolds. Seabold was shot through the right lung, but it is not known whether his death resulted from the wound or from the injuries received in the collision of the ambulance with the street-car.

Checked Reinforcements.

Port of Spain, Island of Trinidad B. W. I., July 28.—The Venezuelan revolutionary general Luciano Mendoza, learning that President Castro was receiving reinforcements from Trujillo, state of Los Andes, awaited near Alto de la Palma a body of these reinforcements, 1,000 strong under command of Leopoldo Baptista. An engagement ensued, resulting in the defeat of reinforcements by Mendoza's troops and the capture of their ammunition. The forces of Baptista were driven back to Caracaza.

Decisive Action Promised.

Port au Prince, Hayti, July 28.—Three thousand men commanded by General Saint Foix Collin, military commander in this district, started Sunday to oppose General Jean Jumeau, who supports the candidacy of M. Firmin. It is expected that a decisive action will take place.

Three Children Killed.

Charlotte, N. C., July 28.—Annie Cousart and Jennie and Mable Nelson, aged 10, 12 and 14 years, were killed by an engine on the Seaboard Air line Sunday. They were walking across a trestle.

MADE HIS OWN MONEY

Young Man Arrested At Greenfield With Pocketful of Lead Nickles.

He Was Beating the Slot Machines But Was Nipped in His Game.

Greenfield, Ind., July 28.—George Tracy, aged twenty-three years, was arrested late Saturday night charged with playing counterfeit nickels in slot machines. When he was taken to the jail and searched 191 had nickels were found in his possession. Sunday Tracy said he made the counterfeit coins himself and that no one was implicated in the crime. Tracy had been living in a cabin with his uncle, Burt Betts, five miles northwest of this city. Officers searched the cabin and found molds and metal and a number of imperfect nickels.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Betts, but the officers have been unable to locate him. Tracy had not been able to work off many of the counterfeit nickels before he was caught. He has lived in this county only a short time, coming here a few months ago from Eagle Mills, O.

A CRUEL FARE

Indiana's Good Name Smudged to Create News Sensation.

Bloomington, Ind., July 28.—The report of an alleged whitecapping in certain Indianapolis papers from this county is a fake, pure and simple. There are no such people living in the township where the whitecapping is reported to have occurred, and people from the direct neighborhood say there has been no trouble whatever in that vicinity.

Woman Hanged Herself.

Bedford, Ind., July 28.—The body of Miss Elvira Gilmore of Koken, Ind., who has been making her home with the family of Dr. A. T. Withers of this city, and who disappeared so mysteriously Wednesday, has been found hanging to a tree near the city. She had probably taken her life Wednesday. Hundreds viewed the body, which was cut down by the officers. The unfortunate young woman was 26 years of age. It has been learned that she had been of unsound mind for about ten years. Her family at one time was very wealthy and is prominently connected.

Deadly Bolt of Lightning.

Hartford City, Ind., July 28.—A bolt of lightning from an almost clear sky killed Albert Merline, aged nineteen years, on the farm of William Teerhelm Saturday afternoon. The unfortunate young man drove out to the farm to fix a binder, and after eating his dinner went to the front yard and sat down under a cedar tree to cool off. A few drops of rain fell and there was a sharp report of lightning. The bolt struck the tree and he was instantly killed. Two men sitting near him were not even shocked.

Twelve Criminal Charges.

Hartford City, Ind., July 28.—Dodge Wolverson, the wealthy Washington township farmer who barricaded his house and escaped with his two children, has been traced to Kingsland, where he is said to have purchased a ticket for Canada. There are twelve criminal charges awaiting his return, and if he is not here by tomorrow he forfeits a $20.00 bond. Wolverson's wife has fled a suit asking for a divorce from him and $10,000 alimony.

Interrupted Wedding Plans.

Marion, Ind., July 28.—Harvey S. Sutton, a deserter from the regular army, was captured here by the local police. He enlisted a year ago with the expectation of being sent to the Philippines, but was kept in the Indian patrol service. He deserted at Fort Meade, S. D., and returned to his home here. He is nineteen years of age, and was engaged to marry, on Aug. 2, Miss Blanche Culbertson of this city.

HARD RAIN AND WIND.

Quite a Little Storm Sunday afternoon.

Seymour was visited by quite a severe rain and wind storm Sunday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock. The rain fell in torrents and flooded the streets in less than thirty minutes. The wind blew very hard and did some damage about town. Several shade trees and fruit trees were blown down and several awnings along the business streets were wrecked.

The most damage done was to the big tent where the evangelistic meetings are being held. Services were in progress at the time the storm came up and about 500 people were under the tent. The west end of the tent was blown down and the tent rendered unfit for further use.

The people who were under the tent were panic stricken and rushed out into the rain and many were thoroughly drenched before they found shelter. No one was hurt but some had a narrow escape from the falling tent poles.

A much better tent has been secured and was put up today.

UNION REVIVAL MEETINGS.

Evangelist Smiley Arrived Saturday Evening and is in Charge.

Evangelist F. E. Smiley arrived from the east Saturday evening and for the next two weeks will be in charge of the union evangelistic meetings. The big tent that was partially blown down Sunday afternoon and rendered unfit for further use has been replaced by a much better one.

At the meeting Saturday night the tent was well filled and the spirit of the meeting seemed to indicate a victory for the Sabbath. Brother Charlton, who was to have preached Saturday night according to program, changed the order and asked Brothers Vest and Severinghaus to speak. Dr. Vest spoke on the three keys to a revival—the Holy Spirit, the power of the evangelist, and personal work of the christian people.

Dr. Severinghaus spoke of the beauty of a union effort and the spiritual enthusiasm necessary to complete success.

The singing was the best of the meetings so far.

Sunday afternoon Evangelist Smiley had charge. The song service was just completed when a shower of rain, accompanied by a gust of wind rendered the tent unfit for service. Some inconvenience was caused by the rain, but no damage other than a rent in the tent and the wetting of some chairs.

The tent has been returned and another one—water proof—put up and the meeting will proceed as first planned.

The meeting last night was held in the Baptist church, which was filled to the doors. Brother Smiley showed himself a master workman in the vineyard. He is a man of power and deep spiritual experience. The churches may expect a great uplift in spiritual life during his work among us.

The meeting tonight will be in the tent and each morning hereafter at 9:30. Let no one who can possibly come miss the Bible lectures in the morning. Prof. McKinsey has arranged some special features in singing for tonight.

Funeral of Frank Huffstetler.

The remains of Frank Huffstetler, accompanied by his wife and father and his sister Mrs. Grant Cole, arrived here from Ogden, Utah, Saturday evening, and were taken to the home of conductor James Cole. Funeral and burial Sunday afternoon were in charge of the B. R. T. and I. O. O. F. Religious services conducted at the Presbyterian church by Rev. J. T. Charlton. Burial at Riverview cemetery. Since the arrival of members of the unfortunate brakeman's family more has been learned about his death, yet the exact facts may never be known. It is believed by some that he was waylaid by tramps, or highwaymen on the top of a car and knocked or thrown off between the cars. His keys and hat were found on the top of a box car. The train ran on some distance before the crew missed him. They ran back and found his mangled body where it was caught beneath the wheels.

THE OLDEST ORNAMENTS.

Beads, First Used by Savages, Are Still in Vogue.

Beads are certainly the most ancient of all forms of the bedecking of the body unless we except the field and forest blossoms.

Nobody knows who first invented beads. Perhaps it was some primitive savage who found nuts or oak balls in the forest, drilled by the wood worm, and threaded them together on a stalk of grass. Anything and everything with a hole in it served at the beginning for beads—cowrie shells, fish teeth, claws of beasts, striped and spotted seeds and the like. But the great age of beads began with the invention of glass, and the Egyptians, Carthaginians and Phoenicians generally were skilled craftsmen at bead-making. Their methods were much the same as may be seen today in Venice or any other chief seat of the art.

It would astonish many new wearers of beads to learn how immense is their production and how wide their distribution. Venice alone has long been accustomed to send forth every year 320,000 quintals of beads, worth $5,000 lire, and in many other spots a steady manufacture is always proceeding to supply the insatiable demands of Zanzibar. The dusky belle must have her ornaments substantial, since they will pass through many a rude proof in cave and kraal. And your well made venetian bead will practically last forever, unchanged in beauty. There must be plenty of beads worn at this day in Africa which were left there by the traders of King Solomon, who trafficked to Ophir, or those more daring mariners of Tyre and Sidon who sailed for trade to the land of Punt and perhaps even to the Zaire best river.—London Mail.

MILLION-DOLLAR WARRANT FOR PAYMENT OF STATE DEBT.

Payment of State Debt Fund.
AUDITOR OF STATE OF INDIANA.
Indiantown, July 18, 1902.
Pay to the order of the Treasurer of the State $1,000,000.00
One Million Dollars
on account of payment of State Debt Refunding Bonds
To the Treasurer of State

The above represents the largest single payment—one million dollars—ever made on the state debt. It means an annual saving in interest to the taxpayers of Indiana of thirty thousand dollars. It emphasizes the fact that practically every increase in the state debt represents Democratic fiscal management; almost every decrease has been effected during periods of Republican control.

A vote for Republican legislative candidates is a vote against the state debt.

RECORDS COMPARED

In the Matter of Debt Reduction In Indiana.

NEW TAX IS NOT RESPONSIBLE

For the Rapid Scaling Down of the State's Obligations by Republican Financial Officers—Cause Is Found in Economical and Conservative Administration of the State's Business Affairs.

The Democratic state platform denounces Republican leadership for claiming credit on account of the reduction of the state debt, and declares that this reduction has been effected as the result of a tax law enacted by a Democratic state legislature. An examination of the record reveals the utter indefensibility of this position. Democratic officers had charge of the fiscal affairs of the state for two years after the state began to derive the increased revenues resulting from the new tax law, and were unable, if they were willing, to begin to wipe out that monument to their own methods of financing the state debt.

When the Republican financial officers went out of office in January, 1891, they left the debt at $8,056,615.12.

At the end of that fiscal year the Democrats had increased it to $8,346,615.12. At the close of the next fiscal year it was the same, the increase being due to money borrowed for current expenses, notwithstanding the new tax law added to the revenues of the state $1,419,778 in 1891, and $1,461,197 in 1892. Thus in two years they had an increase of revenue of $2,880,975 and no reduction of debt until 1893, at the end of which fiscal year the debt was $8,006,615.12, a reduction of only $340,000 from what it was the year before and the year preceding that.

From the debt of 1890 there was a reduction of only $50,000. Democratic state officials paid just $50,000 more than the sum by which they had increased the debt, when the state revenues were millions more than they were under their predecessors.

When the fiscal year of 1894 was closed, Democratic state officials had paid on the debt $570,000 additional, or since taking charge in 1891, in all $910,000. That put the debt at $7,436,615.12. That amount was $620,000 less than the debt the Republicans left and $910,000 less than the debt was after the Democrats had increased it. They paid $400,000 more in January, 1895.

The total of $1,300,000 reduction of state debt by Democrats will bear the following analysis:

In 1893 there was paid $80,000 on the original debt and $290,000 borrowed by Democrats. Total, $370,000.

In 1894 there was paid $570,000.

In January, 1895, there was paid $400,000.

In these years of Democratic financing, with the two preceding, 1891 and 1892, when the Democrats increased the debt, the revenues of the state were, on account of the new tax law, $4,486,928 more than they had ever been. In addition to this they had the use of $578,224 sinking fund, created for the sole purpose of paying the debt. In all they had at command $5,065,152 in excess of revenues and sinking fund with which to reduce the debt. But out of this vast sum they used for that purpose only $580,000, the greater part of $1,300,000 state debt reduction by them being made with money paid the state by the general government for equipping troops during the civil war.

Alongside this record place that of the era of Republican management which has succeeded. Here are some of the results:

The state debt reduced $3,643,000, with payments this year which will bring the total debt-reduction well toward $5,000,000—an average debt-paying of considerably more than a half million dollars a year.

An annual saving of interest payments to the people of Indiana amounting to $110,000 a year.

A million and a half dollars spent in enlargement and improvement of state institutions.

A saving of millions of dollars to the people through county and state fee and salary laws.

A substantial reduction of the tax levy.

How has this result been brought about? Not by hap-hazard. Even an increase in the income of an individual or a state does not necessarily mean a decrease in the debts of an individual or a state. Money is saved at the point where it comes out, not at the place where it goes in. In Indiana the saving has been effected by the establishment and maintenance of strict business methods in state institutions, including a merit system of appointments; competitive bids in the purchase of all supplies; a system of accounting which renders dishonest administration impossible; and strict methods of supervision.

A vote for Republican legislative candidates is a vote against the state debt.

PARAGRAPHIC POINTERS

The latest thing out is a circus trust, formed at a meeting of several of the "greatest-on-earth's" held in Detroit. The way to strike at the vitals of this conspiracy against the American people, according to the Hon. William F. Vilas, who has just returned the reorganized Democracy by the tariff reform route, is to take the tariff off of circuses.

Mr. Bryan has written a letter to a Democratic leader at Valparaiso, in which he commends the resolutions adopted by the Porter county Democratic convention. It is unnecessary to add that these resolutions reaffirmed the Kansas City platform. Mr. Bryan says that he is "glad to know that so many of the people are loyal to Democratic principles." He "would be glad to know something of the methods employed in your state convention, although I am so well acquainted with their methods were." "You will notice," he adds, "that I have criticized the convention. I am sorry those of our Democrats who are loyal did not make an open fight in the convention." Mr. Bryan evidently does not understand the spirit of the Democratic state convention. It had everything reorganized out of it except the harmonious hunger for pie-counter offerings.

The state tax commission has been holding sessions for the benefit of those who feel that an injustice has been done them by local officials in the matter of appraisements for taxation. "How are you?" he insists on giving you complete data, and he is as full of small complaints as a refractory pauper. It is only fair to add that he will ask affectionately after the colds of yesterday, and his favorite lecture for this is at the corner of a drafty street. He might be subsidized by influenza or he might get a commission on sore throats from his eagerness to pin you into the most dangerous position that can be discovered.

One desires an adequate amount of sympathy in distress, but our man always goes a little beyond this point. You are growing thin, and he says that you are wasting away to a shadow. You are growing stout, and he tells an unamusing anecdote about apoplexy. He can be more critical than a hair-dresser if occasion gives the least excuse.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A UNIQUE DORMITORY.

One That Is Owned by the University of the South.

Dean Hoffman was noted for charitable impulses, which his large income allowed him to indulge in. Some years ago the dean invested heavily in land in a small southern town which was then enjoying a "boom" period. Among the dean's other investments was a beautiful little hotel, exquisitely appointed and perfect in every detail. After awhile the "boom" fell through, and the little hotel became a losing investment.

At this time the chancellor of the University of the South, an old friend of Dean Hoffman, was on a hunting trip with him in the mountains of North Carolina.

"We are badly in need of a dormitory down at Suwanee," said the chancellor.

"Yes," said Hoffman and sat thinking for a moment. "Well, you can have the hotel building down at B—," naming the town. "You can take it to pieces and move it to Suwanee. It ought to make a pretty little dormitory."

The chancellor was greatly pleased and made all the arrangements to move the hotel, when, to his astonishment, the citizens of the town obtained an injunction against its removal on the grounds that the hotel in a way was public property and that to remove it would leave the town without any hotel accommodations. A legal fight followed, but the university won out in the end. So the University of the South revels in the luxury of the most unique dormitory in the world.—New York Times.

Food for Thought.

The price of wheat, corn, oats, hay, hogs, etc., is not making Democratic votes; in fact the leaders of Democracy are fearful lest the rank and file of their party desert bodily and join the forces that favor, and bring about such prosperity. Thinking Democrats are realizing that there is more good in the Republican party than they ever thought.—Brookville American.

A Time of Vigilance.

There is no uneasiness in the Indiana Republican camp. The sentries are out, and the officers and men are alert. That means victory, especially since the enemy is weak in storming breastworks.—Evansville Journal-News.

Not to Blame.

Woman's Horrible Death.

New York, July 28.—Mme. Edmund Semple, who before her marriage a year ago was Miss Louise Rutherford of Brooklyn, was set upon by two hunger-maddened Great Dane dogs which had been secured to guard her husband's country house at Anney Lake, and so terribly injured that she died two hours after the attack.

Fell Into Boiler.

Dyersburg, Tenn., July 28.—Will Young and Dan McAuliffe met a terrible death while repairing a steam pipe at a mill here. The scaffolding on which they were working gave way and they fell into one of the boilers and were literally cooked, the flesh dropping from them in large pieces when they were pulled out.

Europe Storm Stricken.

London, July 28.—The gale which prevailed in England Saturday caused great destruction to crops throughout the United Kingdom. Incoming steamers report terrific weather on the Atlantic. The rough weather continued round the British coasts Sunday evening and has been general throughout Europe.

The provisional government of Haiti has declared M. Firmin who was recently proclaimed president by the inhabitants of the department of Artibonite and other portions of the country to be an outlaw.

THE CLUMSY MAN.

You Can Never Be Sure of What His Next Break Will Be.

The great virtue about the really clumsy man is that he never exhausts his capabilities. When you think that the bedrock is reached, there is still a lower depth. If a detrimental relative should exist, the clumsy man asks after his health with great particularity and will not be satisfied until he receives a full and detailed reply. Should there be any incident in your past which everybody has generously agreed to forget it is the clumsy man who seizes the one, the inevitable opportunity, when the club is at its fullest and says loudly: "Somebody was talking the other day about that unfortunate little affair of yours in '95. Now tell me!"

When on meeting him you say casually and with no desire for information, "How are you?" he insists on giving you complete data, and he is as full of small complaints as a refractory pauper. It is only fair to add that he will ask affectionately after the colds of yesterday, and his favorite lecture for this is at the corner of a drafty street. He might be subsidized by influenza or he might get a commission on sore throats from his eagerness to pin you into the most dangerous position that can be discovered.

TOO MUCH FOR THE REDS.

Indianapolis Reserves Outplay the Reds Sunday Afternoon

Though the Seymour Reds put up a hard fight they were outclassed in the game Sunday afternoon with the Indianapolis Reserves, a semi-professional team. A number of costly errors on the part of the Reds gave the Reserves a big advantage. In the eighth inning the visitors hit Schmidt rather freely and piled up six runs. Excepting this one inning Schmidt pitched a good game but his support was not what it should have been. A feature of the game was the field work of Barnes, the visitors' center fielder. The game was stopped three times on account of the rain.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by W. F. Peter druggist.

North Vernon Fair.

The B. & O. S-W. will sell excursion tickets to North Vernon and return July 28th to August 1st, inclusive, at one fare for the round trip, good to return August 2nd, 1902. On July 30th and 31st and August 1st train No. 31 will leave North Vernon at 6 p. m., and will carry passengers for Seymour and intermediate points.

August Magazines.

The August McClure's might almost be advertised as "the book of the month." Though it is a typical mid-summer fiction number—and a tip-top one, too—it manages to find place for a number of striking articles that will perhaps be even more eagerly read than the stories.

The August National is primarily a fiction number. Eight young American writers contribute stories of genuine excellence. At least one of the number—Edward F. Younger, of Chicago—gives promise of soon being reckoned among the foremost short story writers of America. His Tragedy of Hazelwood is a work of unusual power. Joe Mitchell Chapple's illustrated Affairs at Washington is even more than usually full and bright.

There are several really good fiction stories in the August "Success," chief among them being "The Little Bear Who Grew," by Henry Wallace Phillips, the author of the popular "Red Saunders." It is a humorous tale with plenty of snap and plot. John Oxenham's "A Hero in Spite of Himself," is a stirring tale of missionary life in the South Sea Islands. Miss Zona Gale, the poetess, has made the homely girl a heroine. In "The Wallflower," she tells of the disappointments, meditations and heart-breakings of a plain-featured but cultured girl at a ball where she was obliged to sit and watch others dance.

The Review of Reviews for August continues its series of invaluable portraits of men prominent in public life throughout the world. The Right Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, just called to the premiership of the British Empire, is the subject of an admirable character sketch by Mr. A. Maurice Low. Mr. W. T. Stead relates a most interesting interview recently held with Mr. George Frederick Watts, the only British artist deemed worthy by King Edward of a membership in the new Order of Merit, just established. Mr. Walter Wellman, in an article on "Spooners of Wisconsin," writes in an appreciative vein of the man who by common consent ranks today as the leader of the United States Senate, so far as that body may be said to have a leader. Each of these three men, whose careers are described in the August Review, is at this moment very decidedly "in the public eye."

NATURE'S ICEHOUSE.

Food For Birds That Is Preserved In the Arctic Regions.

The number of birds that go to the arctic regions to breed is vast beyond conception. They go not by thousands, but by tens and hundreds of thousands, and because nowhere else in the world does nature provide at the same time and in the same place such a lavish prodigality of food.

The vegetation consists of cranberry, cloudberry and crowberry bushes, and these, forced by the perpetual sunshine of the arctic summer, bear enormous crops of fruit. But the crop is not ripe until the middle and end of the arctic summer, and if the fruit-eating birds had to wait until it was ripe they would starve in the meantime, so they arrive on the very day of the melting of the snow.

But each year the snow descends on an immense crop of ripe fruit before the birds have time to gather it. It is thus preserved perfectly fresh and pure, and the melting of the snow discloses the bushes, with the unconsumed last year's crop hanging on them or lying, ready to be eaten, on the ground.

The frozen meal stretches across the breadth of northern Asia. It never decays and is accessible the moment the snow melts. The same heat which thaws the fruit brings into being the most prolific insect life in the world—the mosquito swarms on the tundra. No European can live there without a veil after the snow melts. The gun barrels are black with them, and clouds of them often obscure the sight.

Thus the insect eating birds have only to open their mouths to fill them with mosquitoes, and thus the presence of swarms of cliff swallows, plovers and the wagtails in this arctic region is accounted for.—Pearson's.

THE RIGHT TO VOTE.

In England It Is Withheld From Many Full Fledged Citizens.

There are many full fledged English citizens who are disqualified from membership in parliament and from taking any part in parliamentary elections. Thus all peers of the realm, except those Irish peers who do not happen to have been elected for life to represent their order in the house of lords, are barred from the exercise of franchise. So, too, are police officials, high and low. They neither have a vote nor are they eligible.

Ineligibility to parliament extends to the Anglican clergy, to Scottish Presbyterian ministers and to the Roman Catholic priesthood. Undischarged bankrupts and those convicted of felony and who have not completed their sentences and are merely freed on tickets of leave are likewise disqualified from election to parliament. So, too, are young men under the age of twenty-one and persons who, having been judicially declared insane, have not been legally restored to their civil rights and privileges.

Insanity, however, does not constitute any disqualification in the case of the upper house of parliament. Lunatics are permitted to take part in the divisions in the gilded chamber, and at the time when the Irish home rule bill, enacted by the house of commons, was defeated by the house of lords no less than three crazy peers were brought down to Westminster by their keepers from the insane asylums in which they were held under restraint and voted as hereditary legislators against home rule being granted to Erin.

Something New In Mechanics.

Great is the humor of woman when she doesn't mean it, great is the nerve of woman when she doesn't need it, and great are the nerves of woman when it so pleases her. This combination is blameworthy for the following: A very pretty girl sat in a Long Island railroad train. Suddenly the whistle blew. It is perhaps not necessary to say that a Long Island railroad whistle is more efficacious than otherwise. It is tuned to the key of W and is operated with a great diapason, giving out a brand of yelping shrill different from anything known to nature. To repeat, the whistle whistled. "O-o-ow!" cried the pretty girl. "Isn't that awful? I should think the railroad company would have these things oiled. It is an outrage." Her companion had never heard of wetting whistles, but after a moment of mulling them. Think it over.—Brooklyn Times.

Crane Island.

In Lake Minnetonka, Minnesota, there is a picturesque island which takes its name from the fact that it is uninhabited by man and given over to the cranes. Generations back these birds decided upon this spot for a summer resort. As times went on and the surrounding islands populated no man had the heart to disturb them, until now Crane Island is pointed out from passing boats as one of the curiosities of the northwest.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

HORSES OF VENICE.

Actual Count Increases the Number to Fifteen.

It is a popular joke to say that there are but six horses in Venice, four over the portico of St. Mark's cathedral and two bronze animals of heroic size, one bestrode by Victor Emmanuel and the other by General Colloane. But this is a mistake. There are four other horses, also of bronze, in the Church of St. John and St. Paul, and quite a number of plaster and marble in the different public buildings, making altogether at least fifteen or sixteen. Ruskin and other competent critics have declared the statue of Colloane to be the best equestrian monument ever cast in bronze. It was designed and sculpted by Andrea Verrocchio, painter, sculptor, jeweler, engraver, poet and musician, a man of infinite genius, whose greatest fame lies in the fact that he was the instructor of the greatest artists of all centuries—Michael Angelo, Raphael and Leonardo da Vinci. The statue of Victor Emmanuel is not so highly thought of.

The horses on the top of St. Mark's are famous and have had a trying experience. They date back to the prehistoric age and are supposed to be the work of a Greek artist named Lyssipus and designed for a sculptured chariot. They were taken to Rome during the empire and first used as ornaments upon a triumphal arch erected by Nero and afterward by Trajan. The Emperor Constantine took them from Rome to Constantinople, where the Doge Dandolo seized them as loot and brought them to Venice. When Napoleon entered the city in 1797, he had them taken down from the roof of the cathedral and shipped them in wagons over the Alps to Paris. They served as ornaments upon the triumphal arch in the Place du Carrousel till 1815, when Emperor Francis I. of Austria redeemed them, and they were replaced, at his expense, where they now stand. These ponderous animals are of pure copper, and each weighs about two tons. They were formerly gilded, but the gold has been worn off by the weather, and the verdigris which has accumulated upon the copper gives them a rich green tint.—William E. Curtis in Chicago Herald.

OUR PRESIDENTS.

Only One Impeachment and But Two Resolutions of Censure.

Andrew Johnson was the only president of the United States ever impeached, and on the trial before the senate he was acquitted, the vote in favor of conviction barely falling short of the necessary two-thirds.

Two resolutions of censure on the president have been passed, once by the senate and once by the house, on occasions when the hostile majority was not large enough either to pass measures over the president's veto or to impeach him.

The first was passed by the senate on March 28, 1834, censuring President Andrew Jackson for alleged violation of the constitution and laws by his removal of the government deposits from the United States bank. The majority of the senate was opposed to Jackson in his war upon that bank, and this vote of censure was the only thing they could do about it. Jackson protested against this resolution as a charge to answer which no opportunity could be afforded him. The senate refused to receive the protest. Finally, on Jan. 10, 1837, the resolution of censure was expunged from the journal of the senate.

The second resolution of censure was in a report adopted by the house from the house committee to which President John Tyler's message vetoing the tariff bill of 1842 had been referred. This report censured the president for alleged improper use of the veto power. Tyler protested against this, as Jackson had done before him, but he had, as a member of the senate, voted against receiving Jackson's protest, and in answer to his protest the house sent him a copy of the senate resolution on the former occasion.

Making Errors.

A Massachusetts business firm prints this paragraph at the top of its letter heads: "Errors—we make them; so does every one. We will cheerfully correct them if you will write to us. Try to write good naturally if you can, but write to us anyway. Do not complain to some one else first or let the matter pass. We want the first opportunity to make right any injustice that we may do." The little sermon deserves a wide audience. Few people have not had occasion at some time in their lives to regret the sending of a harsh or hasty note of complaint. It may be necessary to assert one's rights in subsequent letters, but there is no better rule of correspondence than to make the first one good natured.—Youth's Companion.

A Cure For Sordid Head.

I have heard my grandmother say she had cured many a scald head by taking pure pine tar and enough lard to make an ointment when melted together so the tar won't stick, then keep the head as clean as possible and oil with the ointment. She said she had seen it cure heads when the matter had eaten seams in the neck.—Detroit Free Press.

Does It Pay To Buy Cheap.

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try ONE bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. You can get this reliable remedy at W. F. Peter's Drug Co. and get a sample bottle free. Regular size, 75 cts. Get Green's special almanac.
